

Society for Emotion and Attachment Studies Conference Series 2021

Each virtual mini-conference will last for two half-days and feature invited keynote lectures, expert talks, as well as short oral presentations by early career researchers. Recordings will be available for asynchronous viewing.

You can register for each mini-conference separately, at a rate of €20, with a reduced rate of €10 for SEAS members and early career researchers.

More information will be made available on the SEAS website and by the three hosting SIRGs in due course.

We are looking forward to meeting you virtually at one or more mini-conferences in 2021, and back in person at the postponed biannual International Attachment Conference (IAC) which will now take place in 2022.
